Superintendent Smith says the results from the employment of alum as a coagulant are known and are satis--factory. The water department does not uplate a change unless the change (is advantageous to the city. The new fron filter is working now to demonstrate that it will not only give better results in the precipitation of the foreign matter in the water, but provide the dematter in the water, our province partment with a coagulant that is cheaper. It is asserted that iron is a less expensive and more effective coagulant than alum. The patentees are making tests to demonstrate that, at their own expense, and not on the water which is sent into the city. Whatever results have been obtained are not yet public. Meantime the city has an abundance of excellent water in the old way. And the department is run at a profit.

HARMLESS CHURCH RIVALRY.

There is a harmless rivalry between two of the Episcopal churches because of the music of Easter. Some good per-sons, who do not know things, might be shocked to learn that when Christ be shocked to learn that when Christ Church choir proposed to sing an oradorio, for which an admission fee will be charged. St. Luite's choir offered another oratorio, for which there is no admission to bar out those who have not the price. Then Christ Church choir offered to give the last rehearsal for the benefit of the public at 1:30 o'clock on Saturday, at which a collection will be taken from those who wish to give. The ill-concealed rivalry among the advocates and the friends of the two churches has caused much humdrous comment, all of which will doubless increase the sitendance of both churches on Sunday.

OLD MAN AS BURGLAR.

E. M. Martin, a man as old as the ancient mariner of classic story, with gray heard and long, skinny hands, was arraigned in the Police Court this morning on the charge of burglary. The detectives accosted him on the streets will a large pucking case, which they afterward found to contain a quantity of stolen clothing and jewelry, some of which has been recognized by the owners. The officers testified that various kinds of keys were on separate rings, for the contains of the contains of the contains of the contains and contains a quantity of stolen clothing and jewelry, some of which has been recognized by the owners. The officers testified that various kinds of keys were on separate rings, for trunks, for doors, for bureaus, so that the operator need not lose time by applying the wrong keys. There was a rope ladder, immles, glass cuttors and court plaster to paste the glass so as not to fall when cut. There was evidencenough in that telescope case to convict a saint of burglary. But to Justice Taylor the old man said he had no lawyer to advise with and no means to employ a lawyer, and without legal advice he does not intend to say anything whatever about himself or his antecedents. He was cool and unabashed, despite the evidence that he had been robbing houses here for weeks by applying for board and leaving with his package of plunder. He was returned to jail to allow the officers time to get more evidence against him.

WATTERS REFUSED NEW TRIAL.

C. M. C. Doran, the attorney who was expeninted by the court to defend Sam Watters, the negro accused and convicted of the murder of Charles Hunter or J. T. Allen, has been refused a new trial. None of the judges of the Court of Appeals will grant the prayer on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence, and that the man is not justly convicted. The hanging is set for April 16th, and, if the Governor's pardon be not intervened, there is no reason to expect that the murderer will escape hanging. Mr. Doran received information this morning that the Court of Appeals would not grant a new trial, and told the condemned man of his fate. He was much affected and wept in distress.

BTANDARDSVILLE, VA. April 10.-STANDARPSVILLE, VA. April 10.—
The educational conference of the Seventh Congressional District was held at Stanardsville yesterday. Vice-President Stone of the University presided. There were several very able addresses, notably those of Dr. Frazer, of the Southern Educational Board, who attributed Virginia's descent from her position as first among the colonies a hundred years ago to her present status to her neglect not of the higher, but the lower graded schools, and of Captain Vawter, of the Miller School, At the suggestion of Dr. Farzer, a committee was appointed to consider the matter of placing the professional status of teachers on a higher plane.

Superintendent Hulvey, of Rockingham, carried a motion to appoint a committee to co-operate with the school trustees in ruising the funds necessary to build a graded school for the county here.

The attendance from the neighborhood was large and attentive:

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT

Many Applications for Liquor License Will Bring a Large Crowd to Chesterfield Courthouse on the Next Court Day

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) mportant deeds were filed to-day in the county cierk's office for record, the same property being transferred by the two deeds. The first is from W. Brydon Tennant and Alexander Hamilton, commissioners of the court and substituted trustees for the Ettrick Manufacturing Company, under a deed of trust given by the company in the year 1878, conveying all of the property of the Ettrick Manufacturing Company, including forty-six acres of land, mills, machinery, etc., to George E. Fisher, of New York. The price paid for the property, with the riparian rights, etc., on the Appomattox River, was 58,-100, but since the purchase by Mr. Fisher the Virginia Passenger and Power Company has become the owner of the dams in the river, with the riparian rights and lend for the support of the back water, and the commissioners have been directed by decree of the Corporation Court of Petersburg to convey the said rights direct to the Virginia Passenger and Power Company. The other deed recorded to day is from George E. Fisher, conveying the same Ettrick Manufacturing Company property to Augustus Wright and Charles Hall Davis, of Petersburg.

Suit was filed to-day in the Circuit Court by Lydla W, Cook, wife of A. B. Cook, against the Seaborad Air Line Rallway for $5,500 for damages to the Wakefield Granito Quarries, near Petersburg. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LIYNCHBURG, VA., April 10.—The Excutive Committee of the Presbyterian Orphans' Home is now in session here. This morning the committee visited and inspected the Ivey property, which has been purchased for the orphanage.

At last night's meeting the financial situation was discussed and arrangements were made to make the cash payments were made to make the free property. It was decided also to spend about $1,000 at once for furniture, farm implements and other necessaries. It was decided that the Home should be opened for the reception of orphans July 1st, and that reception of orphans July ist, and that it twenty-five should then be admitted. It is understood that there are seventy-five applications for admittance, and Rev. C. W. Maxwell, superintendent; Rev. F. T. MoFaden and Mr. George E. Caskie were appointed a committee to pass on all applications for the first year. It was decided not to receive any children under three years of age; no boys over it ien years nor girls over twelve years, excepting in such cases as the committee may consider epochally deserving. If any member of the committee disagrees as to the reception of any particular orphan, he can require the matter to be passed on by the whole board.

A resolution was passed asking the Presbytory of Norfok to release Rev. C. W. Maxwell from the pastorate of Colley Memorial Church, of Norfok, as speedily as possible, not later than May 1st. As soon as Mr. Maxwell is released he is to begin work as superintendent of the Home, and will spend his time from May 1st to July 1st in visiting the yarrious Presbyteries in the interests of the orphansge. At the annual meeting here of the Board of Trustees in June plans will be made to enlarge the institution and to increase the number of orphans. twenty-five should then be admitted. It
